Dear Team Leader and Fellow Teachers,

If your students are running a gardening program or are studying life cycles, our program can be a relevant and exciting learning experience. For elementary schools we do shows geared from preschool to sixth grade. It is never too early to introduce children to the wonder of nature. We hope our program will help to foster a life-long love of creatures, and in turn, create nurturers of our environment.

Show Description: During our interactive show we will discuss bees in history, pollination, honey production, honey harvesting, reproduction, bee safety, physical aspects of bees and the health benefits of honey, all in a lively and entertaining way. The lecture is accompanied by a brilliant slide show including detailed photos of the bees, film clips of the queen and Jer working in the hive and more. Students love our puppets Henrietta the New Bee and Beatrice the Older Sister Bee, who explore the many jobs of a worker bee, and end their performance with the bee dance! Live bees including the queen, frames of sweet smelling honeycomb are brought for the children's inspection. Each student will receive a honey stick and their own activity book.

The show can be conducted in a classroom, or in the school's library or multipurpose room.

Please allow 60 minutes per show not including seating and dismissal; 40+ minutes lecture and last 15 minutes to see the live queen and worker bees up close and ask questions.

State Science Standards exemplified in our show and referrals are available on our web site below.
