Dear Teacher,

Show Description: The children will be engaged with our hands-on show. During our interactive show we will discuss the history of bees, pollination, honey production, honey harvesting, reproduction, bee safety, physical aspects of bees and the health benefits of honey, all in a lively and entertaining way. The lecture is accompanied by a brilliant slide show featuring detailed photos of the bees, film clips of the queen and the worker bees performing their various jobs in the hive and much more. Our puppets Henrietta the New Bee and Beatrice the Older Sister Bee who explore the many jobs of a worker bee end their performance with the bee dance! Children will also learn about the oldest bee found in amber, hexagons and centrifugal force. Live bees including the queen, frames of beeswax and frames of sweet smelling honeycomb are brought for the children's inspection. Each child will receive a honey stick and their own activity book.

The show can be conducted in a classroom, or in the school's library or multipurpose room.

Please allow 60 minutes per show not including seating and dismissal; 40+ minutes lecture and last 15 minutes to see the live queen and worker bees up close and ask questions.

State Science Standards exemplified in our show and referrals are available on our web site below.

For more details please contact Ellen and she can email or mail the specifics based on your needs.
